

Now is the time to raise your hand and become a participating Vendor at World Stamp Show-NY 2016!

Everyone is coming to World Stamp Show-NY 2016

Held only once every decade, the United States philatelic community welcomes the world to New York City from Saturday, May 28 through Saturday, June 4, 2016 for the World's largest celebration of stamp collecting.

The exhibition will be held at the Jacob Javits Convention Center, the "Marketplace for the World". The facility is nearing the completion of a five year renovation and expansion project, to be finished in 2014. The show will occupy nearly 300,000 square feet (27,300 m²) of open space.

Coming from abroad? New York City could not be easier to get to. JFK International Airport welcomes flights from more than 100 airlines from 50 countries offering full customs services for vendors from outside the country.

Several major hotels are nearby or a short distance away. The exhibition is reserving over 25,000 room nights with a variety of discounted prices for visitors. Reservations will begin in May, 2015.
