

Dana Guyer
Ex Officio

Dana is the Executive Director of the American Stamp Dealers Association. She started her career in stamps at the American Philatelic Society as Public Relations Manager/graphic designer in 2004 and in 2006 became the Director of Shows and Exhibitions. Her professional background is in graphic design, printing, marketing, and event planning. When not at work, she spends as much time outdoors as possible, hiking, gardening and bird watching.

Washington 2006 was her first international show working at the booth for the APS. Her collecting interests are pachyderms, blue birds, essays, proofs, and original artist renderings of stamps.
