

Christine Jimenez Executive Assistant

Christine's professional background in administrative support spans nearly three decades and many industries. She has traveled extensively and is fluent in her native Spanish. She has had two successful start-ups: one in corporate event planning and the other in custom home building. Christine is a member of the National Professional Women's Association, the Society of Human Resource Management and has completed several projects with Habitat for Humanity.

In her spare time, Christine enjoys reading, Mediterranean cooking and watching movies. Although new to philately, Christine is drawn in by the history and the generous spirit of the people she has met.
